Colin grew up in Williamsburg, Virginia, but has lived in Virginia Beach since he graduated from Virginia Wesleyan University with a B.A. in Business in 2010, where he was also a starting pitcher on the baseball team. After graduating from VWU, he decided to pursue his passion for education and baseball, earning his Master's in Secondary Education from Old Dominion University in 2012.

Colin went on to teach high school English at both Hampton and Virginia Beach for four years and he also coached baseball at Virginia Wesleyan University, Tallwood High School, and Bayside High School over the span of six years.

Colin thoroughly enjoyed being a teacher, mentor, and coach, and he worked hard to help his students and athletes set and achieve their goals. Colin has brought the same attitude, passion, and dedication to the financial services industry, where he guides and supports his clients just as he counseled students and athletes as a teacher and coach.

He joined the Frieden Agency full-time in 2016 and brings a professional skill set to helping his clients achieve their financial goals. Colin has always been around the financial services industry, as his father, Michael McNulty, has been in the industry since 1987 and with the Frieden Agency since 1991.

Colin's unique personal and professional background helps him build strong, lasting relationships with clients, making them feel comfortable collaborating with him, confident that he understands their plans, and successful in achieving their goals.

Colin currently lives in the Kingston Estates community in Virginia Beach with his wife, Katie, their daughter Teagan Rae, and their two cats, Kylie and Maddie. Colin enjoys spending time with family and friends, relaxing outdoors, rooting for the Cleveland Indians, golfing, and listening to music.
